Happy dancing!

Choreographer's note: When performed to "Beer Can't Fix", this little dance is a bit reminiscent of older dances where a fixed step sequence was more common, and multiple tags and restarts may not have been included. I wrote this dance specifically with beginners in mind, and I opted to omit the 3 restarts in 2 different locations of the dance that would be required to keep the dance in perfect alignment with the verse/chorus structure of this particular song. The song does have a consistent cha cha rhythm throughout so I hope you'll find its tag- and restart-free structure to be fun and easy for beginners (and others!) to enjoy to this great track.
